Business Law, 5th Edition (James et al.) is written for business students to provide a clear and accessible

introduction to the legal system. Business law courses are the first exposure to law for many business students and the first time they are obliged to think deeply about the discipline. This updated edition presents business law in a practical context rather than the doctrinal Page 33/60 context that many major legal publishers use. The Business Law interactive e-text features a range of instructional media content designed to provide students with an engaging learning experience. This includes practitioner videos from Herbert Smith Freehills, animated work Page 34/60 problems and questions with immediate feedback. This new edition is a unique resource that can form the basis of a blended learning solution for lecturers.

Dynamic Business Law: The Essentials is appropriate for the one-semester Page 35/60

Business Law course. It contains the basics of business law but does not get bogged down in the kind of details that are more appropriate in an upper-level law class. The text provides an examination of the basic questions, concepts, and legal rules of business law. Emphasis on the Page 36/60

BUSINESS in business law. Dynamic Business Law: The Essentials emphasizes the tie of legal issues back to the core business curriculum. This will help both students and faculty. Faculty need to know how this is integrated as they are constantly 'defending' the Page 37/60 inclusion of this course in the business curriculum. And students need to understand how the concepts tie to their future business careers. Emphasis on TEACHING. Many professors teaching this course are attorneys first and academics second. They do not have a lot of time to Page 38/60 prepare or think about how to apply this information effectively for their business students. Dynamic Business Law: The Essentials contains a helpful instructor's manual, particularly for the many adjuncts teaching this course. Emphasis on CRITICAL THINKING. Neil Browne, one of the co-Page 39/60 authors of this text, has written a successful text on critical thinking. His framework is included in Dynamic Business Law: The Essentials as well - to help students learn how to frame and reframe a question/issue. Critical thinking questions are also included at the end of each case, to Page 40/60 tie in this component even further.

Business Law offers comprehensive coverage of the key aspects of business law in a straightforward manner that is easy to understand for non-law students. It describes and considers the full range of legal topics Page 41/60 such as Contract, Company and Employment Law, as well as including coverage of emerging areas such as Health and Safety and Environmental Law as they apply to business.

This text provides the most rigorous analysis of business law to students taking business and finance related courses. Building on the 30 year success of Card & James: Law for Accountancy Students, Lee Roach has taken this classic text and developed it to create a new textbook suited to today's business student.

Do your students struggle to engage with legal topics? Look no further than Marson and Ferris' Business Law to help them actively engage with the law, understand it, and approach it with confidence Written with business, management, and finance and accounting students in mind, the Page 44/60 authors put the law into a context that they can easily understand by introducing case studies in every chapter. "Business Scenarios" help the students contextualize the law by presenting the reader with an example of an everyday problem which demonstrates how the law can Page 45/60 affect a company, employer, employee, or other individual. Throughout each chapter the students are asked to pause and consider how the content applies to these routine business problems, enabling them to become active readers and think independently Page 46/60 about how the law operates. The first chapter provides a helpful guide to studying the law and advice on how to excel in assessments so that students can fulfil their potential. This chapter includes a sample problem question and model answer. Further sample problem and essay questions Page 47/60 can be found at the end of chapters, giving readers an opportunity to test their understanding and practise for assessments. Students will be able to find indicative answers to these questions hosted with the online resources for this book. At the end of Page 48/60 each chapter the authors provide further reading suggestions to guide students that want to deepen their knowledge, including wellmaintained and trusted websites. Twitter feeds, and YouTube channels in addition to suitable books and articles Online resources This book is Page 49/60 accompanied by a suite of online resources to support students' learning, including flashcard cases, self-test questions and answers with feedback, and additional material on legislation.

Fostering Better Business Thinkers with the Law in Mind An ETHICAL DECISION-MAKING framework, first introduced in Chapter 2, is a cohesive Page 56/60 theme throughout cases questions and other material. An emphasis on CRITICAL THINKING, backed by coauthor Neil Browne's expertise in this area, teaches students how to frame and re-frame a question/issue. A focus on BUSINESS RELEVANCE consistently ties legal issues back to Page 57/60 the core business curriculum. Students leave with an appreciation of why understanding the law in the context of the business is critical to their future success as a business. leader. With Connect, students benefit from critical thinking practice with Interactives, a personalized Page 58/60
