Limonov
Limonov was born in former Soviet Union, in Dzerzhinsk, an industrial town in the Gorky Oblast (now Nizhny Novgorod Oblast). Limonov’s father—then in the military service – was in a state security career and his mother was a homemaker. In the early years of his life his family moved to Kharkiv in the Ukrainian SSR, where Limonov grew up.

Eduard Limonov - Wikipedia

Eduard Limonov is one of the most amazing people on Earth, the author of a few truly great books, a man who has lived a fuller life than any 10 of your most interesting friends combined. That would be more than enough, for someone who was only out to do just that.

Limonov can seem an odd choice as the subject of a biography -- especially if the approach is one such as Carr è re takes, rather than a more critical/scholarly/academic one. Limonov himself is a writer, and his subject has most frequently been himself; he is a self-aggrandizer who has created his own mythology.
